The Cost to Play: Padel Court Price Padel Court Booking Prices Around the World Padel prices vary significantly with the cost of living, the cost of real estate, and court availability vary by city. With just a couple of courts, New York-based Padel Haus is the most expensive court our survey found with the on-peak rate for non-members at $55/player/hour. Several courts are planned and in construction in the city, but it will probably take a lot of clubs to satiate New York's demand for padel. The Gulf States are increasingly a padel hub, and Dubai also has high prices with high variability - many courts go for over €100/hour during on-peak times. Across northern Europe, the prices settle around €40-50/hour for peak times, and in Southern Europe and small cities, the prices can be as low as €10-25/hour for off-peak times.

Padel Market Size Padel business is booming. The padel market size is currently estimated at US$327 million in 2022 and is forecasted to grow at 9.6% through 2027 (Brainy Insights).

Most of the market is made up of the sales of rackets, shoes, bags, and other accessories.
